

Master the Foundations of English Grammar:

Verb Tenses

Passive Voice

Conditional Sentences

Direct & Indirect Speeches

And Sentence Architecture

Quickly and Clearly – Through Smart, Structured Tables.

Equally important for the classes IX, X, XI and XII

Prepared by Zafar Ismail

English Verb Tense Structures (Chart)

| Tense                      | Formula / Structure                        | Example Sentence            |
|----------------------------|--------------------------------------------|-----------------------------|
| Present Simple             | Subject + base verb (s/es for he/she/it)   | She walks.                  |
| Present Continuous         | Subject + is/am/are + verb+ing             | She is walking.             |
| Present Perfect            | Subject + has/have + past participle (V3)  | She has walked.             |
| Present Perfect Continuous | Subject + has/have been + verb+ing         | She has been walking.       |
| Past Simple                | Subject + past verb (V2)                   | She walked.                 |
| Past Continuous            | Subject + was/were + verb+ing              | She was walking.            |
| Past Perfect               | Subject + had + past participle (V3)       | She had walked.             |
| Past Perfect Continuous    | Subject + had been + verb+ing              | She had been walking.       |
| Future Simple              | Subject + will + base verb                 | She will walk.              |
| Future Continuous          | Subject + will be + verb+ing               | She will be walking.        |
| Future Perfect             | Subject + will have + past participle (V3) | She will have walked.       |
| Future Perfect Continuous  | Subject + will have been + verb+ing        | She will have been walking. |

Passive Voice:

Passive voice is used when the object is more important than the subject, or when the speaker wants to soften the tone of the sentence. While the structure of passive voice differs from active verb tenses, the definition of each tense remains the same.

 Note: No passive voice is formed without past participle (V3).

Passive Voice Structures – Tenses & Forms

This chart includes the passive voice structures for the tenses, modal verbs, and imperative sentences.

| Tense / Form                      | Passive Structure / Formula                      | Example Sentence              |
|-----------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------|
| Present Simple             | Subject + is/am/are + past participle (V3)       | The book is read.             |
| Present Continuous         | Subject + is/am/are being + past participle (V3) | The book is being read.       |
| Present Perfect            | Subject + has/have been + past participle (V3)   | The book has been read.       |
| Present Perfect Continuous | No common passive form                           | Not formally exist            |
| Past Simple                | Subject + was/were + past participle (V3)        | The book was read.            |
| Past Continuous            | Subject + was/were being + past participle (V3)  | The book was being read.      |
| Past Perfect               | Subject + had been + past participle (V3)        | The book had been read.       |
| Past Perfect Continuous    | No common passive form                           | Not formally exist            |
| Future Simple              | Subject + will be + past participle (V3)         | The book will be read.        |
| Future Continuous          | No common passive form                           | Not formally exist            |
| Future Perfect             | Subject + will have been + past participle (V3)  | The book will have been read. |
| Future Perfect Continuous  | No common passive form                           | Not formally exist            |

|                                                      |                                                    |                                 |
|------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------|
| Modals (can, may, must, etc.)                 | Subject + modal + be + past participle (V3)        | The book can be read.           |
| Modals Perfect (could have, might have, etc.) | Subject + modal + have been + past participle (V3) | The book could have been read.  |
| Imperative (affirmative)                      | Let + object + be + past participle (V3)           | Let the room be cleaned.        |
| Imperative (negative)                         | Do not let + object + be + past participle (V3)    | Do not let the room be cleaned. |

Conditional Sentences:

Table of conditional sentences, including the four main types — zero, first, second, third — along with mixed conditionals:

| Type                      | Condition Clause (If...) | Main Clause (Result)               | Usage                                            | Example                                      |
|---------------------------|--------------------------|------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------|
| Zero Conditional   | If + Present Simple      | Present Simple                     | General truths, facts, or laws of nature         | If you heat ice, it melts.                   |
| First Conditional  | If + Present Simple      | Will + Base Verb                   | Real or likely situations in the future          | If it rains, we will cancel the trip.        |
| Second Conditional | If + Past Simple         | Would + Base Verb                  | Unreal, hypothetical situations (present/future) | If I had wings, I would fly.                 |
| Third Conditional  | If + Past Perfect        | Would have + Past Participle       | Imaginary situations in the past                 | If she had studied, she would have passed.   |
| Mixed Conditional  | If + Past Perfect        | Would + Base Verb (present result) | Past condition with present result               | If I had taken the job, I would be rich now. |

Direct and Indirect Speech Table:

| Tense / Sentence Type             | Direct Speech                   | Indirect Speech                            | Rule / Change        |
|-----------------------------------|---------------------------------|--------------------------------------------|----------------------|
| Simple Present             | He said, "I eat apples."        | He said that he ate apples.         | Present → Past       |
| Present Continuous         | She said, "I am cooking."       | She said that she was cooking .     | am/is/are → was/were |
| Present Perfect            | They said, "We have finished."  | They said that they had finished .  | have/has → had       |
| Present Perfect Continuous | He said, "I have been reading." | He said that he had been reading .  | have been → had been |
| Simple Past                | She said, "I went home."        | She said that she had gone home.    | Past → Past Perfect  |
| Past Continuous            | He said, "I was working."       | He said that he had been working .  | was/were → had been  |
| Past Perfect               | They said, "We had left."       | They said that they had left .      | No change            |
| Future (will)              | She said, "I will come."        | She said that she would come .      | will → would         |
| Future Continuous          | He said, "I will be studying."  | He said that he would be studying . | will be → would be   |

Imperative Sentences (Commands / Requests)

| Type                    | Direct Speech              | Indirect Speech                            | Rule / Change                    |
|-------------------------|----------------------------|--------------------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| Command          | He said, "Open the door."  | He told me to open the door.        | Use to + verb             |
| Negative Command | She said, "Don't shout."   | She told me not to shout .          | Use not to + verb         |
| Request          | He said, "Please help me." | He requested me to help him. | Use requested + to + verb |

? Interrogative Sentences (Questions)

| Type                       | Direct Speech                    | Indirect Speech                     | Rule / Change                            |
|----------------------------|----------------------------------|-------------------------------------|------------------------------------------|
| Yes/No Question            | He said, "Are you coming?"       | He asked if I was coming.    | Use if/whether , change tense     |
| Wh- Question               | She said, "Where are you going?" | She asked where I was going. | Keep question word , change tense |
| Helping verb (do/does/did) | He said, "Do you like tea?"      | He asked if I liked tea.     | Remove do/does/did , adjust tense |

Practice:

Choose the best suited speech of the following:

1. She said to him, "Did you beat my son yesterday?"
  - a) She asked him if he has beaten her son the last day.
  - b) She asked him if he beaten her son the last day.
  - c) She asked him if he had beat her son the last day.
  - d) She asked him if he had beaten her son the last day.

2. The manager said to the peon, "Get out of my office"
  - a) The manager ordered the peon to get out of his office.
  - b) The manager ordered to the peon to get out of his office.
  - c) The manager ordered the peon to get out of my office.
  - d) The manager order the peon to get out of his office.

3. You said to her, "Madam, good evening"
  - a) You respectfully greeted her.
  - b) You respectfully greeted good morning to her.
  - c) You respectfully greet her.
  - d) You respectfully greeted you.

4. "No, Ali," Said they, "You did not lose your game, yesterday."
  - a) They assured Ali that he had not lost his game the last day.
  - b) They assured Ali that he did not lost the game the last day.

- c) They assured Ali that he did not lose the game the yesterday.
- d) They assured Ali that he had not lose the game the last day.

5. I said to him, "When do you get up?"

- a) I questioned him that when he got up.
- b) I questioned him that when did he got up.
- c) I questioned him that when did he get up.
- d) I questioned him when he got up.

6. He said, "Alas! I have fallen short of few marks to get position".

- a) He exclaimed with sorrow that he had fallen short of few marks to got position.
- b) He exclaimed with sorrow he has fallen short of few marks to get position.
- c) He exclaimed with surprise that he had fallen short of few marks to get position.
- d) He exclaimed with sorrow that he had fallen short of few marks to get position.

7. You said to him, "What a strange story you are telling us today!".

- a) You said to him with wonder that he was telling a very strange story to you that day.
- b) You said to him with wonder that he was telling a strange story to you today.
- c) You said to him with wonder that he told a very strange story to you that day.
- d) You said to him with wonder he was telling a very strange story to you today.

8. You said to me, "May you succeed in your life!".

- a) You wished me that I may succeed in my life.
- b) You wished me that I might succeeded in my life.
- c) You wished me that I might succeed in your life.
- d) You wished me that I might succeed in my life.

9. The teacher said to the students, "Earth revolves around the sun".

- a) The teacher taught the students that earth revolved around the sun.
- b) The teacher taught the students that earth revolve around the sun.
- c) The teacher taught the students that earth revolve around the sun.
- d) The teacher taught the students that earth revolves around the sun.

10. He said to her, "Which book did you lend me?"

- a) He questioned her which book she had lend him.
- b) He questioned her which book you had lent me.
- c) He questioned her which book she had lent him.
- d) He questioned her which book she had lended him.

11. The spectators cursed that their team was performing poorly then.

- a) The spectators said, "Damn it! Our team is performed poorly now".
- b) The spectators said, "Damn it! Our team is performing poorly now".
- c) The spectators said, "Damn it! Our team was performing poorly now".
- d) The spectators said, "Damn it! Our team is performing poorly then".

12. Asad exclaimed with admiration that Azhar had done well.

- a) Asad said, "Bravo Azhar! you have done well."
- b) Asad said, "Bravo Azhar! you has done well."
- c) Asad said, "Bravo Azhar! you have been done well."
- d) Asad said, "Bravo Azhar! you have done good."

Answer key

Choose the best suited speech of the following:

1-d      2-a      3-a      4-a      5-d      6-d      7-a      8-d      9-d      10-c      11-b      12-a

Sentence Architecture

COMPOUND, COMPLEX AND COMPOUND-COMPLEX SENTENCES

COMPOUND SENTENCES:

A compound sentence contains at least two independent clauses. These two independent clauses can be combined with a comma and coordinating conjunction or with a semicolon.

Examples:

- He completed his novel review, and he made his reference list.
- My cousin's job is not easy, but he loves going to work daily.
- Let me be of my own, and never come to get on my nerves.
- He is leaving for home; he intends to rest there.

COMPLEX SENTENCES:

A complex sentence is a sentence with one independent clause and at least one dependent clause. It works best when you need to provide more information to explain or modify your sentence's main point.

Examples:

- While I am passionate soccer fan, I prefer to play tennis.
- Although he is thought to be smart, he miserably failed in literature.
- Whenever it rains, I love to wear orange coat.

COMPOUND – COMPLEX SENTENCES:

It is combination of at least two independent clauses and one dependent clause.

It's helpful to dissect these sentences into independent clauses and depended clauses in order to better understand why they are compound-complex.

Examples:

- Even though Arham loves her very much, he failed to express himself; it was no wonder she left him.
- If you ask to repay, he may feel offended and if he fails to repay, you will be offended.
- You know that you were wrong and you can't change it.
- Page #1

Here is a brief summary of number of dependent and independent clauses in the four types of sentences.

| Type of sentences | No. of independent clauses | No. of dependent clauses |
|-------------------|----------------------------|--------------------------|
| Simple            | One                        | One                      |
| Compound          | At least two               | Zero                     |
| Complex           | One                        | At least one             |
| Compound-complex  | At least two               | At least one             |

