

Parts of speech

All our words can be classified into eight categories which we call Parts of speech: Nouns, Pronouns, Verbs, Adjectives, Adverbs, Prepositions, Conjunctions, and interjections.

1- Facts about Nouns:

A name of everything is known as noun like a person, place, thing, or quality.

For Example: girl, Edward, Karachi, desk, beauty, decision etc.

Kinds of nouns:

I- Concrete noun which can be seen, felt, heard or tested.

For example:

The dishes were stacked on the counter near the sink.

After the snow fell, we took our sleds to a big hill.

II- Abstract noun names a quality or idea that can be perceived by the mind rather than the sense.

For example:

Sorrow descended upon the family.

Many have knowledge without possessing wisdom.

III- Collective noun names a group or collection.

For example:

Army, team, Jury etc.

IV- Compound noun is made up of two or more words. Some are written as one word, some are written as two words, and some are written with hyphen.

For example:

Guidebook, Common sense, decision-maker, doorman, dining room etc.

2- Facts about Pronouns:

A pronoun stands in place of a noun.

For example:

I- Personal Pronoun:

He, him, me, she, It, you etc.

II- Indefinite pronouns:

All, none, some, many, few, anyone, everyone, someone, either, neither, each, both, whoever, whatever etc.

III- Reflexive pronoun:

Himself, themselves, herself, itself etc.

3- Facts about Verbs:

It typically expresses action, and it usually has different forms of events.

Kinds of verbs:

I- Transitive and intransitive verbs.

The verb that has a receiver of action known as transitive verb and can be used in passive voice like:

Play, write, request, rectify etc.

The verb that does not need to have receiver of action known as intransitive verb and cannot be used in passive voice like:

Sleep, stand, sit, bleed, go etc.

Some verbs are known as transitive as well as intransitive like

Fly, open, close, collapse etc.

II- Regular and Non-Regular Verbs:

When “d :or :ed: is added in base form of the verb to make Past and Past participle known as Regular verbs and other wise called irregular verbs.

e.g.

Regular verbs: Play, Watch, Cater, Appoint etc.

Irregular verbs: Cut, Send, Read, Bleed etc.

4- Facts about adjective:

An adjective describes about a noun or pronoun and qualifies the meaning of nouns.

For example:

Creative artist, clever invention etc.

*The controversial editor angered many readers.

*Eric is a very bright sportsman.

* Qaid-e-Azam was a great leader.

5- Facts about adverb:

Adverbs modify verbs and adjectives.

For example:

* She dresses smartly.

* Mother has arrived early.

* They are sitting quietly.

* He beautifully scored a goal in the final match.

6- Facts about Preposition:

Preposition shows the relationship between the noun or pronoun which follows it and some other word in the sentence.

- The cat is hiding behind radiator.
- They were moving towards disaster.
- The fire started in the basement.

The most common prepositions are as under:

Above, before, concerning, past, about, behind, down, since, across, below, during, through, after, beneath, for, throughout, against, beside, from, to, along, between, in, towards, among, beyond, into, under, around, like, underneath, at, by, of, until, off, on, up, over, upon, with, within, without.

7- Facts about Conjunction:

A Conjunction joins or shows the relationship between related words or groups of words.

For example:

And, because, so, therefore, yet, but, except, since, for, as etc.

I hurried home but no one was there.

We moved to Lahore and went into business there.

8- Facts about interjection:

An Interjection is an exclamatory word or phrase. It shows mild, strong, or sudden emotion.

Yahoo, oh, hurrah, oops, alas, ugh etc.

Alas! He expired.

Ugh! I hate snakes.

Goodness me! What a surprise.